"Week in Review" summary report for week ending 01/17/2016

1 GitHub:

As announced last week, I am using the REPO subdirectory structure in my laptop and updating the online GitHub version once a week.

2 Week in Review:

During the week researched, studied and completed work for the following items:

1. Attend GoTo Meeting
2. Worked on Career Module tasks/readings
3. Defining what Is Portfolio and how to create/build an ePortfolio
4. Completed the initial Self-Evaluation and SWOT analysis
5. Created first Burn-Up List
6. Updated current Anchor Points
7. Developed and posted Failure to Success Story
8. Created new Mission Statement
9. Completed several Failure To Success Responses

Reflect and Connect:

Spent most of the week trying to catch up plus submitting the daily work. Engaged in several replies to some posts and was overwhelmed by the amount of reading from the Career Module section.

Have began to analyze and evaluate the setting up some components for my ePortfolio. Now I am a member of several groups in LinkedIn whose special interest is mobile development. Started to evaluate the establishment of a blog along with perhaps a web site. But this last item will not be a personal one but rather one that deals with mobile development.
